Women's Health: We define women's health in the broadest sense possible. In addition to high-quality cervical cancer screening and prenatal care, we also offer management of sexually transmitted infections, family planning services, and treatment of all cancers that commonly affect women. We know that women have diverse medical needs, so our program also includes the provision of robust primary care. We have developed specific expertise in the screening, diagnosis, referral, and treatment of cervical cancer, which is the leading cause of death in Guatemala. Our obstetrics initiatives focus on reduction of maternal mortality through high-quality prenatal care, midwife education, and using technology to make childbirth safe. The foundation of our women's health education program is Mayan language women's health classes that, when integrated with our nutrition initiatives, help women have healthier pregnancies, children, and lives. At the present time we serve over 2,000 women.

At this time we are currently providing general nutrition monitoring and assistance to over 2,000 children.

Our team of case managers all speak Mayan languages and do whatever it takes to overcome the entrenched structural barriers to health care of indigenous patients. We serve over 350 complex care patients annually.

Other Program Services Accomplishments

Activity Code	Description	Expense	Grants	Revenue
	Research: In order to provide health interventions with the highest impact that create long lasting behavior change towards better health, we empirically investigate chronic disease in Guatemala and test the effects of our interventions. The data serves as a guide for us to start new programs, scale up existing programs, or find a new solution to an old problem. In 2017, we worked on two major investigations: the first was to investigate the effect chronic malnutrition has on child brain development, serving over 300 children and the second project focused on preventing unnecessary perinatal deaths by providing midwives in technology to detect complicated pregnancies early, serving 42 midwives and almost 600 pregnant women.	113,423	0	0
	Primary Healthcare: We provide day-to-day care for thousands of Guatemalans who do not have access to health care services. We provide cradle to death care in 7 communities and help patients to focus on their health via the practice of preventative medicine. Our providers coordinate care with other specialists in Guatemala so that patients may receive care including surgery and chronic care treatment. We provide care to over 8,000 patients a year.	49,191	0	37,600
